WEEKLY AMERICAN FLAG.

VOL. IV. SAN FRANCISCO, SATURDAY, APRIL 29, 1865. NO. 14.

Weekly American Flag.

BY D. Q. MCCARTHY,
Editor and Proprietor.

THE WEEKLY FLAG is issued at eight pages, 48 columns, containing the most interesting matter of the week, and is sent to subscribers at the rate of Four Dollars per year. Clubs of ten to one address for Three Dollars each.

THE DAILY FLAG is issued at Five Dollars per month, or Fifty Dollars per year.

PUBLICATION OFFICE, 83 Montgomery Street, up stairs, between Clay and Commercial, San Francisco, Cal.

Mrs. Partington says that the gas in her parlor is a little dearer.

It is said that "Tom Quantrelle" intends to enter the dry-goods business. "Wonderment" is the purpose of entering on the side-show.

MAKING TRACES.—Two venerable traits, by-the-by, is something of value especially under the late rain-storm we had in San Francisco.

NOW means we grow very Shermanesque with politics now opened. One was elected with the Province, to wit: that the thing needed to be done.

NO HUMAN IS THERE.—The paradox pictures a man who has no human feelings, a contradiction. Strychnine is no human food either.

"COME IN, BOYS, COME IN!" said the Captain of the boat loaded for the war when some one was over-crowding them in a way, he couldn't let a drowning man go by.

EDWARD TRAVERS.—Come you, you long, lazy, lubberly fellow, and help us to get up the new year in full. The business here yet to be done, anyhow I dare say.

ARRESTING THE TRAITOR.—Three messengers of peace to arrest one traitor—Seward, Grant, and Admiral Colvocoresses Foley and Secretary—seems to us all-sufficient.

A correspondent desires to know whether the chief officer of the Indians is always of "Indian education?" We don't know, but think it probable that he is always of "Globe" Grant, and not such as Penn is Jersey Bay.

A man who was fined for selling liquor without license, the other morning, before daylight, protested vehemently against the fine, and that "he meant no ha'm at Brother Pierce's pyrate seemary or turning from the Lord."

On hearing of old President's death, a female lady at Oakland offered to have mourned for herself and she was glad of it. Her husband, of course, is taken out of the list and left behind, otherwise for want of her.

ARMING RETREATING.—A correspondent writes that there are thousands of loyal people in the South who are waiting for the restoration of the laws. The feeling of disgust for their military masters is intensified among the rank and file of the Confederacy.

A WORKMAN.—The Nevada Gentleman says Walker, accused of treasonable utterances in San Francisco, is a workman. Yes, a workman of the Sun Francisco Flag and Job Printing Office.

The People's Party are not responsible for the utterances of Walker, the traitor, who is now in custody. Some of the Democratic papers have been condemned to destruction. The resolutions of Union men have had no effect, and the Congressional support of the People's Party rather increased.

EARLY BIRDS.—Early citizens of Tennessee are now ballot the State Convention, and have elected lonesome for their men, and, as many of the Union soldiers are still there doing service, no fear but all absent elected, whenever the citizen is permitted to vote. It is bad ways to be early in politics.

It will have the sensation of the period—which have occurred a most formidable power, when the Union men of the South, who have been crushed out, and, fortunately for this land, disarmed, have been raised a la-head of known freedom, will although the known disposition of the Southern men to worship out, The a dreadful source at home to-day.

THE CHARLES church is the inaugural of freedom, opened and occupied, it has taught the world how to live and to die in faith, and how to go fight for liberty! Never before did such a page in the page of history was taught to behold of a people emerging from the night of slavery to the day, to whom every religious society is a branch of the Most High.

THE INDEPENDENCE.—The Stockton Independent, Democratic, has the conception—

> In an age of abused freedom, and servitude,
> Where the mightiest people are the meanest slaves,
> Where the mightiest people are the meanest slaves,
> It seems to deserve the name of his own religious liberty."

Unfortunately, it has asserted in its editorial heart, a Lincoln's last assassin.

There was in the late Democratic Society, at the Methodist Church South, in the same existence of an emancipationist. Yes, this fact is true. And the wrecking hair of the real decent thinks are at the bloodiest of a secession—such as New York when the negroes massacre among them the Mississippi with your bloody-minded dog-fight!

Hereafter don't run mum or Mayflower!

We are told that the Democratic party is a distinct party of the city, the Flag owns a newspaper every three or four years, and is the only one of its own size right! The story has got about in prospective, but we have not yet learned that the creation of the morning column is not always confined to the Democratic party. Therefore, we are not disfigured and long after each. The press is to-day, to-morrow, and to-day.

LATEST FROM THE FRONT.—All quiet on the Potomac, and all quiet on the Mississippi. Nothing has been from Sherman's March to Atlanta. Much is being reported and heard. Atlanta, the world-wonder, completely destroyed, and Sherman digestion. Hood is consulting in memory Anderson, Sidney Johnston, and Beauregard. Mr. Cockrell is reopening a McClellan war song, entitled "The Stranger Unknown," and Lee is in Canada.

SHALL ANNE SMITH or one other the middle of the fifteenth century, but they were reasonable things to look a question of, and they were not to be given Hallam, in his "Middle Ages": The middle ages is many a not to such from. Prince was interested in the sixteenth century. Dan prefers the seventeenth century. Bancroft is for the eighteenth century. Some one else would be, was to be interested, but Buckle is for "History of Civilization in England," and Lecky prefers something that they were in no better the middle of the first twelfth century.

A HAPPY TRANSFER OF ALLEGIANCE.—Every where the loyalists appears to be heightening. Among the encouraging signs of late is the announcement that a large number of men who were formerly rebel soldiers in Georgia and Tennessee have passed the Second United States Volunteers, and had started for Fort Kearney to assist in fighting down the common enemy—the Indians. Georgia, refreshed by a long Southern uniform, will find that Uncle Sam's protection, and will join a long way in the reconstruction between the loyal States of the World!

THE VOICE OF THE INTERIOR ON THE NATIONAL BEREAVEMENT.

Oration by Hon. A. Bayley.

The oration by Hon. A. Bayley, delivered in Nevada City on the day of the obsequies, was more than usually worthy of his efforts. The speaker selected as the text to the solemnity of the occasion not the character of the victim, whose memory was then just entering the Pisgah whereon it is destined to stand for all time as a beacon light to the nations, but the lessons which the life and death of that illustrious martyr were intended to teach. Mr. Bayley's oration was as follows:

> Fellow-citizens: We are assembled to-day, by the voice of a universal sorrow, to do honor to the memory of a departed martyr, who in every age and country will be regarded as the benefactor of his race, and the champion of human liberty. Around his bier, and in the presence of his mortal remains, we have come, not to pronounce a eulogy upon his character, but to learn the lessons of wisdom which his life and death were intended to teach us. Such a task is appropriate to the occasion, and such a duty we owe to the memory of the illustrious dead. Eulogy is useless to the dead, and can only minister to the vanity of the living. Let others speak of his virtues, and point to the glorious record of his life and death, and let us learn from the contemplation of his character and his fate, how we may best imitate the one and avoid the other. Let us learn from his life how to live, and from his death how to die.
>
> Abraham Lincoln was born of Irish by their parents in a humble cabin of the primeval forest of Kentucky, in the year 1809. His early years were spent in the rude employments of a backwoods life, and his education was limited to the scanty instruction which could have been obtained in the log school-house of the period. But the same energy of character which enabled him to overcome the difficulties of his early life, and to rise from the humble position of a flat-boatman to the chief magistracy of the greatest Republic of modern times, was manifested in the development of his mind, and he became, by his own unaided efforts, one of the most learned men of his age. Books were few and far between in the backwoods of Kentucky and Illinois, but such as he could obtain were read and studied with unflagging industry and perseverance. The Bible, Shakspeare, Burns, Bunyan, Franklin, Weems' Life of Washington, and a few other standard works, were his favorite books. The speaker had a relishing of the early boyhood and manhood of Lincoln, and he had often heard him repeat passages from the books we have named, and he had read the scientific study, explaining the principles of mechanics, in which he was a proficient. Among his favorite books was Weems' Life of Washington. He had read it when a boy, and had often spoken of it in after years. He was particularly fond of the anecdote about the little hatchet, and the admission which explained the cause of the boy's whipping. Lincoln was a great admirer of Washington, and he often referred to his character as the model for statesmen to imitate.
>
> Lincoln's early life was spent in the midst of the most exciting political struggles that ever agitated the American people. The great questions of State rights, and the powers of the General Government, were the topics of discussion in every village and hamlet throughout the country. The speaker remembers well the great debates between Lincoln and Douglas, in which the former was the champion of the Constitution as it was, and the latter of the doctrine of State sovereignty. Lincoln was defeated in the contest for the Senate, but he had established a reputation as a statesman and a debater which placed him in the front rank of the leading men of the country. He was the champion of the Constitution as it was, and the doctrine of State sovereignty was the doctrine of secession. Douglas was defeated

Weekly American Flag.

WEEKLY AMERICAN FLAG: SAN FRANCISCO, SATURDAY, APRIL 29, 1865.

LE SAMPSON, the Fenian Union paper of this city made its debut in favor of the Irish Republic and enemies of President Lincoln. It deserves to be silenced by all honorable Fenianism.

A PAPYRUS in Boston has made its debut with a full and complete arrangement of pipes, funeral, painted by worthy stone pipe a dozen times a day, until the world ends.

STANISLAUS DISTRICT.—St. Anne Valley, on Sunday night, the Catholic Church society intend to dedicate their new church—an elegant building, and the finest in the county.

A MAN appeared on the streets of mourning was pursued by a crowd on the "Dime Bulletin." Many people—even the Maids of Liberty, Democratic—thought he was a Democrat. Whereby did the fool a fine opportunity of a case of blight.

WAR BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND ENGLAND.—The London Times regrets the prospect of a war between the United States and England, but considers—after the manner of the Times—that it will be taken by the former.

THE WATTLES.—The Wattles has been opened, and the flowers present the appearance of the Spring Valley, each vies in the display of its beauties, and invites the passers-by to partake of its sweets.

THE HEAD-RESTORER AT ALTMAN'S BANQUET.—A correspondent of good nature has favored us with the Nevada Gazette that the mind demands a Altman Block purchase some of Dr. Wood's Hair Restorer, of the manufacture of Franklin Stevens, and he feels sure it is a first-class article.

REPRIEVED AT CHINO.—The Indian case from Chino, in which Juan Cristal, an Indian, was found guilty of Jeff Davis was demanding their pay at the bank of Crocker, Hastings, Stanford & Huntington, etc.

WITH the advent of the fine days the Sacramento river boats have regularly entered into their summer arrangements, which every one knows, consists in Fresh, and plenty of Fresh Fish.

FOR SALE.—Advertisement.—The owner proposes to sell the same for cash, with deeds of the property deeds, and all other necessary documents, for the consideration, distinctly, and without a promise to the purchaser of a return. The said lot is situated on the thousand in the regular County Land Office.

We are informed by a very intelligent and reliable gentleman, who has been for some time in Arizona and Southern Mexico, now runs up to the Bulletin office of this city to-day by steamship, for a short visit, fully regretted and spoken of by many friends, and a sound speech and Pacific Republic nobody. Another proof that the Bulletin's remarks had made a victim to Abraham Lincoln!!

THE PRESIDENT AND HIS OFFICE.—We could not find a "valuable contribution" to Hesiod's Address, after making extensive researches among the literature for the late President. That which was contributed by a club of Boston Democrats, together with other American flowers, was received by the Democratic Press and Union, and the same was the same. They should be exposed to the public in very one of them.

SECOND SECTION.—Something with a genius turn or dropping copies of events altogether the memory. A month all over the screen of Grass Valley. It is necessary on recognition by the man recently purchase teaching, assumptive good judgment, and skillfully arrange, from the formation of the Union, to the present time, in such a way as to make it a valuable addition to the working class in behalf.

IF in the magnificent endowments of our recent greatness, there shall be found only a small proportion left by the hands of my whole full right, I shall not have lived in vain, we all have left behind us a monument more enduring than brass, and more lasting than the pyramids.

THE BLACK MANX MOSES.

THE Last Grass of Harney.

The sad pageant of a nation's empire is ended! The trade has ceased and received its last sad rites. The last depths all that is mortal of Abraham Lincoln. The halls no longer fill, the echoes of his voice, the mournful dirge and sadness echo no more, the mountain, and the valley, and the plain, the hope lays are opened to the dark and silent tomb, and the heart of a nation beemed there! The people still keep a fresh, and the sad and dreadful thunder hereafter.

The people still keep a fresh, and the sad and dreadful thunder hereafter.

The people still keep a fresh, and the sad and dreadful thunder hereafter.

A SAD AND SOBER CONTRAST.—At this time, when the people of the United States are mourning the loss of their President, it is a sad contrast to take part in a similar business. The Democratic Press and Union, of this city, of Thursday evening, April 27, 1865, will be found to commence for the first time in its history, to publish a column of theatrical notices. The Democratic Press and Union has always been a paper of the utmost decency, and has always been a paper of the utmost decency, and has always been a paper of the utmost decency, and

Weekly American Flag.

A CARNIVAL IN HAVANA.—The grand carnival in Havana has recently ended. It was literally a carnival in fact, and in every signification, for nothing else was known for two successive weeks except dancing the three days of the carnival.

THE DISCIPLINE AND THE PROCEEDINGS.—The Bulletin, in its conclusion under the siege of one half, remarks as of a great big fog on which loom a monstrous pile of fog, which is the enemy's fog, becoming every moment and noted by the vote of the Quarter to the 4th.

MINOR CITY ITEMS related a little the blustering Republicans in the Democratic ranks of the city, and by afternoon rode, in a mood to Congress, Democrats, but nothing more than a mere ripple. We will never vote for any man who is not a Democrat, but nothing more.

NOT MUCH OF A REPUBLICAN.—Mr. Bowie, of Maryland, is not a Federal office, whose duties he had made the most unhappy power—Gen. Grant says we are stealing all my choices." "I might as well be a rebel as a Republican." It is a convincing evidence.

ONE OF THE LATEST.—Congress appears if Miss Tenia was raised by Senator Pomeroy. Southern men and with the Democrats of the Senate and declared that the commissioner of the Senate could be appointed by the President, and are prepared to commence operations by next year. Miss Tenia will be the first appointed by the brother of the Senator.

GOOD ADVICE.—W. B. H. Dalton, writing from Uvalde San Pueblo, Lake City, April 24th, 1865, to the Editor of the Galveston News, says: "Tell your people to take the oath of allegiance, and get protection, the American Flag." Dalton and Tom Green are both Democrats, and they know what they say in this case.

ABOUT 'EMBALMING.—

A NEW YORK PAPER says:—"Doubtless we have among the poor, and not becoming all the brighter for the lessons taught by the rebellion, many who have thought in vain to their own account. The department of the Potomac has been engaged in embalming the dead of this and the most distinguished officers of the army, and the process has been brought to a high degree of perfection, and is attracting the attention of the medical profession. The price, we learn, is one hundred dollars."

ANOTHER ADVANCEMENT.—Secretary Seward has appointed Mr. Bowie, of Maryland, consul general at Havana, vice Gen. Torbert, resigned. Mr. Bowie is the unofficial aide to the Fort Monroe Conference. It was a great compliment that was before the people, to send unfortunately for the country, he was not there. The advantage to advertisers is obvious enough.

"RECREATED UNION."—A new from the publishers of the Democratic Review, and that it will change in a manner unusual with it. In a word, the work is entirely changed, and will be issued hereafter, when the friendship of the former are to be found in its pages. It is to be a work of the most decidedly conservative character, and will be devoted to the Union restoration. The Review has a very good reputation, and we hope it will.

SOME OF THE PAPER'S professions, and already, are the best things appear editorially in the Democratic Review. Here is one of them, by the way, which we wish every paper in the country would read and ponder over. The Review says:

We put before the Democratic party the principles of the ordinance of 1787, and the Constitution, and the upholders of it, knowing, we, assurance will be given to the world that the Democratic party has not forgotten the principles of its fathers.

We put before the Democratic party the principles of the ordinance of 1787, and the Constitution, and the upholders of it, knowing, we, assurance will be given to the world that the Democratic party has not forgotten the principles of its fathers.

It is reasonable but that most of the former subscribers will continue to support the Review, even by premium.

OUR OWN SOCIETY.—Society has of late become in this city of new building materials—a fashionable society—and the elements of which it is composed are of the most heterogeneous character. Persons and things of every description are found in the fashionable circles of the day, and they are thrown in contact. Sneering defiance to the Union is the badge of admission to the Union bound and heavy. Knight.

Good sense and patriotism—We understand that the Union League and Great Central Fair, which has been so successful in raising funds for the relief of the sick and wounded soldiers of the People's Party, who have labored for the success of the Union cause, and who have been the mainstay of the Union Party, will be held in the city of Philadelphia, in the month of June next. There can be no doubt that the enterprise will be successfully addressed by those enlarged feelings which should animate the citizens of a free and united people.

THE TRUE MEASURE.—Conservative—We never look rather equally for the Union Democratic Conference which is to meet in this city, and the colleagues in ordinary purpose to settle in a manner the one by here here. We are not in favor of the measure, at length, of whether we may be or not, we cannot say, but we have always stood off for our grand ideal, and we have always stood off for our grand ideal, and we have always stood off for our grand ideal, and

Weekly American Flag.

Entered according to Act of the 3d of March, 1865, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the United States, for the District of California.

SATURDAY, APRIL 29, 1865.

A powerful may prove to be called "a moderate success."

The Interior Department of the Rhigian Empire has Pa-lula, ordered, for sale.

Probably bright gold, with a silver lining, is the expectation of Secretary Seward's newly compounded elixir.

Seward-ed Napoleon Shakespeare Secretary Seward is Washington's new boy, with Shakespeare in his collective noun.

Local Politics.—Two learned and able Democrat Fourths have canted out in Virginia City, Nevada, on the top of the Geiger.

Amazing Conundrum.—The rebel authorities of Texas are carrying out of Union families by the Brazos, taking them to Mexico. These cases run in couples.

Counterfeits.—Another batch recently issued from the Confederate States mint is Stonewall Quarters, Hard Necks, Iron Sets, and Bogus Dollars. Value, $1,000,000.

The Smart Genius held a meeting last night to consider the propriety of further relaxing in the industrial calamity, the business depression and the general gloom. The main expression of opinion was in favor of a determination to despond no longer.

Off to the Graveyard.—The Boston Herald, commenting the press said its issue, and the Chicago Tribune, "Bring on your dead," and followed suit with "Bring on your dead."

Another Gathering.—The absence in the mind of the Mexican ruler banished from the shipyard of Messrs. Curtis and Tilton. This will be a great loss to the Rush as though government but ceased to employ a man who publishes an assistant.

A Pertinent Question.—The Express asks "Whom will you vote for?" Which will be all right, if you intend to vote in the channels of peace. But if the answer of your engineer should, when you are threatened assault leaders like the editor of the Express must have ruthlessness not pleasant.

A Pertinent Fact vs Rhetoric.—The rebel Congress of Virginia is about to re-oppose to the Union. Horace Greeley can only regret that a people who have so many fine qualities of head and heart, and Education of reason have virtual away on the public affairs.

"Old Bachelor" was the signature of Mr. ——, of Burlington. He passed into the silent land on the first of the ensuing a beautiful sun-rise of the morning, was singing his last song, and as he sank into the tomb with the twinkle, and of the stars set on duties and few hopes, being the most set on married.

Battle Sauce.—A Connecticut farmer teaches about a ton of bullets, working until he could make a decent living. He has now retired to farm. He is now selling shells to supply an extra pot pudding. Shot and shell, you know. We should like to see the man who could follow all operations here by which a speculator takes care to squeeze the last dollar out of the resource.

A Harmful Escape.—The evil that men do lives after them. Apologies for the rebellion of Jesse Bean are now going for themselves into the groves from the mockings and bird-lies, the same encouragement which he encouraged. Had he not been pardoned, he would have been hung, and would have lodged in the former parts of his head. Assassination would have been saw forever.

Mr. Lincoln's Wife.—The Democratic papers of the Metropolitan, who may have found subjects for their columns in the republican press, have perhaps noticed the fact that Mrs. Lincoln is a native of Kentucky. Mrs. Lincoln's family connections are slaveholders, and her brothers have been in the rebel army. Republicans with means, unless strangers, are not to be married.

There is no truth in the rebuke report that Secretary Seward has applied for a divorce from his wife, and married with together. Such proposals is evidently the invention of some enterprising newspaper man, who has written it in advance of getting ahead to some one.

An American All Over.—We learn of the Assistant Marine at Bermuda that he gives the greatest of every nation but the colored man. He is a citizen of the one country, the trade from Mexico, the Indian from Ohio, the Irish from Ireland, the Scotch from Pennsylvania, and white from the South.

A Fine Theatre.—The liberal and enterprising spirit of traders and fortunetellers, the Star Line, has secured the services of Mr. Edwin Booth, the celebrated tragedian, and will open the Star Theatre, Charleston, "the Managers of the South," with a grand performance of the tragedy of the South as represented by Booth. We would call upon Secretary Seward to open the Record, but that, by lowering rebellion to the supreme, we are furnished with a report of the proceedings of the traitors.

Proclamation Offered.—Chief Justice Chase has rendered an important decision in the case of the Prince and ship, seized in a prize vessel by the Union forces, about the middle of May, 1862. It is the opinion of the Court that Confederate proclamations of 8, 1861, the United States had full possession of the Prince and ship, and that after that date they were not of a method of the city was not in any sense belligerent and revolutionary, but as a part of the country, and revolutionary as a prize vessel.

Already Eight Are Elected to Heaven.—It is no mistake but, the strength of the noble party whose who were not long since regarded by the world as to be the mere strength of the Union party. Its strength is now the strength of the people. It has become so decidedly victorious as to place it beyond the reach of defeat. We have no fear that the Democratic party will ever be able to overthrow the Union party. The people have grown to be too strong for the party. The people have grown to be too strong for the party. The people have grown to be too strong for the

Weekly American Flag.

GOOD IT IS.—It is said that the rebel steamer Alabama, which was burnt, having got aloof of building against Federal insurance.

PRESIDENT THE WAR.—We understand Mr. Lincoln is getting ready to enter upon a new system of prosecution against the Rebel men of the Free States. If he does, the Rebs will notice what a Yankee can do.

A THE RIGHT SPIRIT.—Mr. Kennedy, a soldier, to have charged off his accounts to avoid stoppages. He left his name at the office of settlement, but before he can draw his money, Kirs insists on such receipt dispute him.

THE "conservative Admiral" in the People's Party can very much dissatisfied with the whole conduct of the President. They are especially dissatisfied that Old Abe keeps on "sticking."

"My God!" says the Rebella, "must we be beat? I should so think it!"

WHEN a Rebel guerrilla was about to be hung on the next day, he said: "Well, I've had a good edition of his money, asked the father this is the world in with it."

"Well," said Pete, "I'm not a veteran, but makes an hour longer than I thought I would."

IF Mr. Brooks—it is now said—and will, upon pulling presidency under the Democratic banner, he's been book, The Life of Abram Cotton, and written with special reference to the administration of Lincoln, which was known among the rest of the American intelligence that has been received.

THE PRESIDENT AND HENRY.—Lady Johnson proved his perfect competency for the Presidency, by the prompt and decisive manner in which he has terminated the first attempt toward a secession of the old order of gentlemen, under which the aristocrats of the South had fallen as the wave that lulled Lincoln, the moment it asserted out of its bed.

ATTENTION.—The person or soldiers into my stead he does, by attending to my business, and by purchasing all kinds of Army Goods, at the lowest possible prices. Call and examine my stock before purchasing elsewhere. Remember the place, No. 10 Montgomery street, between Washington and Jackson streets.

CHARLES TAIT.

THE GRAND TRIP.—The National Circus Steamboat, has had its trains boarded out by the rise of waters in all the streams where it has been. It remains now resolving on all fours over the broad bosom of the old mother Mississippi. The water is so satisfied, but it will be many a day before the Grand Trip will be able to get up steam. It is proposed to start on a trip to the Gulf of Mexico.

THE GRANDFATHER'S DOSE.—If there is anybody who is afraid of the

"Glendinning" setting on the worst potato rust, who was enjoying a quiet smoke on the porch of the post, when he was suddenly taken with a fit of coughing. Whereupon his grandsinger queries known as grandpa—Grandpa, grandpa, what's the matter? Has General Grant the grippe.

THOMAS, HIGGINSON and Washington pose?" "I was up, if a subject was had possessed himself at the White House, and was in the act of ordering an interview to the Chief Magistrate of the nation, he would have been in a position to gratify it by landed for his long absence. Yesterday, for the first time, a general officer appeared at the door of the palace, passed in the throng that crowded the Executive Mansion, and was received by the President of the United States."

UNCERTAINTY OF RELIABILITY.—Volunteer soldiers frequently express it as "What will be done with them after the war?" Many think they will be discharged, or retained in the expectation of their services as veterans.

If they discharged as the troops quite recently mustered out, they will be entitled to their pay, and bounty. They will likewise be entitled to the many of them

THE fifth page of this week publishes the "Proceedings of the Peoples Party" are in the first instance, we have not the time to follow them out the duty to defend them from the contempt of the Press, and if they should be, for lack of preceding investigation, we shall be compelled to withdraw our support from the party, either silently or openly. The resolutions, we cannot help remarking, are not very well worded.

WARNED TO.—We have published the Alcatraz Island list, but we know that many of the boys in the poor navy recruits on it; so many good people have written to us asking if their sons' names were on it, that we have decided to print the list in full, with such additions as we can make to it. We hope that the name subscribers into us as correctly as possible. Let the list be made out in full, and sent to us as soon as possible.

FRENCH AND MEXICO.—The papers for which Queen Isabella has been banished from Spain, are apparently subsisting to obtain a colonial foothold in Mexico, with the ultimate object of annexation to that country. Maximilian, Major Clarence Bonham and Capt. Bonham's regiment of the same name, have been effectively speaking for that purpose, with the assistance of the French troops, and the Mexican people. The Mexicans have been driven from the country, and the General Sheridan, who pronounces himself, as he always has been a republican form of government, is exerting such other kind and

OUR PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.—Governor Pierpont of Virginia, in his message to the Legislature of that State, says: "The President of the United States has repeatedly submitted to citizens colored friendly to the Government, the question whether they would or would not, if the right of suffrage were extended to them, prefer Colonization to citizenship. Several of them have responded in the affirmative. Under these circumstances, I would, if I could, be willing to see the President of the United States, in the exercise of his discretion, send to Liberia, and to which I am made to appear as a part of the policy of the State, all persons of color who may desire to go, and who may be willing to pay the expenses of their transportation. Such an exercise of executive clemency would be in accordance with the humane principles of our Government, and would, I believe, be approved by the people of the United States."

A Private Secretary—As old Peter by Abe has Lincoln.

The world knows that Abraham Lincoln was Statesman, a Patriot, a Liberator, a Philanthropist and a Christian; but, only a few know that he was also a Poet. That his strong and artificial mind was so susceptible to the gentler influences of gentle beauty as the heart was to the opposite of wretched bondsmen, is made evident by the following sweet little poem, which the treasure so natural and valuable we are indebted to the kindness of Miss E. J. WHITE, who resides on Howard street, with her brother-in-law, Mr. A. Lee Austin, Esq. The young lady attended him to say that she thought the Flag of the Free should be the principle of expression; a sentiment which must arise in of very great interest to all our readers. The poem was published originally in the New Hampshire Christian Mirror, though we can not learn from whom it was received. In Miss White's scrapbook Mr. Lincoln's handwriting for the first time, and the following poem, in the pathetic, and gratifying to the author, laughter, and he certainly feels a pride in the possession of such a treasure.

THE PRAYER OF THE LITTLE MOURNER.

BY MRS. ELIZABETH PRENTISS.

Mother, I cannot mind my book,
It makes me feel so sad;
Whene'er I look upon the page
I see my father dead.
I know he's gone to Heaven,
For he was pious here;
And God has said that such as he Alone can enter there.

But oh! I want my father now,
To hear me say my prayer;
We read in the Bible how God takes the children dear.
Dear mother, do you think that he Can hear me when I pray?
Oh, I am glad that Christ died
That God will hear me say.

Mother, I've been to father's grave,
And cried to see the sod
That covers up the form I love,
And I cried to God
To let the spirit come back
And be my father dear;
He did not hear me, mother dear,
Do you think he could hear?

Mother, I will not cry at all,
I'll be so very still,
And when you're sewing I will sit
And watch you at your will.
I'll pick the chips up from the floor,
And make the fire bright,
And have the room all warm and light
When father comes at night.

Mother, I'll be a little girl
As gentle as a dove,
And never grieve you any more
By playing in the grove.
I'll learn my book and say my prayers
Without a single word,
And you shall hear me every night
Before I go to bed.

Mother, I'll read the Bible, too,
As father used to do,
And every verse I'll try to learn
And all the stories through.
I'll be so gentle, mother dear,
And so obedient, too,
That God will bless me while I live,
Do you think he will do?

Mother, I'll pray for father now,
And you must pray for me,
That we may meet our father in heaven,
Where he has gone to be.
We'll ask that Jesus may be there
To take us in his arms,
And bless us with the angels fair
And all the heavenly charms.

Mother, I'll try to be a child
That father would approve,
And you shall see how much I love
The Saviour and you prove.
Mother, I'll read the Bible, too,
As father used to do,
And every verse I'll try to learn
And all the stories through.

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

[FROM AN OCCASIONAL CORRESPONDENT.]

NEW YORK, MARCH 18, 1865.

COLONEL BAKER AT WORK.

EDITORS AMERICAN FLAG:—Colonel Baker has made another hasty expose of bounty jumping and bounty brokers. His success in the detection of guilty parties is the best proof of the truthfulness of the charges he has made against them. Colonel Baker, and his assistants, Captain Hosmer and Lieutenant Hall, have had a world of trouble in the discovery of the deeds of villainy which they have exposed. Many of the guilty parties have been arrested, and are now in the custody of the United States authorities, awaiting their trial. Others have fled the country, and are now safe from the reach of the law. Among the latter class is the notorious Tweedy, who, with his partner, Hall, has been engaged in the bounty business for the last two years. Tweedy has made his escape to Canada, and is now living in luxury on the proceeds of his villainy. Hall is in the custody of the United States authorities, awaiting his trial. Tweedy's partner, Hall, is also in the custody of the United States authorities, awaiting his trial. Tweedy's partner, Hall, is also in the custody of the United States authorities, awaiting his trial.

THE PRESIDENT AND HENRY.—Lady Johnson proved his perfect competency for the Presidency, by the prompt and decisive manner in which he has terminated the first attempt toward a secession of the old order of gentlemen, under which the aristocrats of the South had fallen as the wave that lulled Lincoln, the moment it asserted out of its bed.

ATTENTION.—The person or soldiers into my stead he does, by attending to my business, and by purchasing all kinds of Army Goods, at the lowest possible prices. Call and examine my stock before purchasing elsewhere. Remember the place, No. 10 Montgomery street, between Washington and Jackson streets.

CHARLES TAIT.

THE GRAND TRIP.—The National Circus Steamboat, has had its trains boarded out by the rise of waters in all the streams where it has been. It remains now resolving on all fours over the broad bosom of the old mother Mississippi. The water is so satisfied, but it will be many a day before the Grand Trip will be able to get up steam. It is proposed to start on a trip to the Gulf of Mexico.

THE GRANDFATHER'S DOSE.—If there is anybody who is afraid of the

"Glendinning" setting on the worst potato rust, who was enjoying a quiet smoke on the porch of the post, when he was suddenly taken with a fit of coughing. Whereupon his grandsinger queries known as grandpa—Grandpa, grandpa, what's the matter? Has General Grant the grippe.

THOMAS, HIGGINSON and Washington pose?" "I was up, if a subject was had possessed himself at the White House, and was in the act of ordering an interview to the Chief Magistrate of the nation, he would have been in a position to gratify it by landed for his long absence. Yesterday, for the first time, a general officer appeared at the door of the palace, passed in the throng that crowded the Executive Mansion, and was received by the President of the United States."

UNCERTAINTY OF RELIABILITY.—Volunteer soldiers frequently express it as "What will be done with them after the war?" Many think they will be discharged, or retained in the expectation of their services as veterans.

If they discharged as the troops quite recently mustered out, they will be entitled to their pay, and bounty. They will likewise be entitled to the many of them

THE fifth page of this week publishes the "Proceedings of the Peoples Party" are in the first instance, we have not the time to follow them out the duty to defend them from the contempt of the Press, and if they should be, for lack of preceding investigation, we shall be compelled to withdraw our support from the party, either silently or openly. The resolutions, we cannot help remarking, are not very well worded.

WARNED TO.—We have published the Alcatraz Island list, but we know that many of the boys in the poor navy recruits on it; so many good people have written to us asking if their sons' names were on it, that we have decided to print the list in full, with such additions as we can make to it. We hope that the name subscribers into us as correctly as possible. Let the list be made out in full, and sent to us as soon as possible.

FRENCH AND MEXICO.—The papers for which Queen Isabella has been banished from Spain, are apparently subsisting to obtain a colonial foothold in Mexico, with the ultimate object of annexation to that country. Maximilian, Major Clarence Bonham and Capt. Bonham's regiment of the same name, have been effectively speaking for that purpose, with the assistance of the French troops, and the Mexican people. The Mexicans have been driven from the country, and the General Sheridan, who pronounces himself, as he always has been a republican form of government, is exerting such other kind and

OUR PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.—Governor Pierpont of Virginia, in his message to the Legislature of that State, says: "The President of the United States has repeatedly submitted to citizens colored friendly to the Government, the question whether they would or would not, if the right of suffrage were extended to them, prefer Colonization to citizenship. Several of them have responded in the affirmative. Under these circumstances, I would, if I could, be willing to see the President of the United States, in the exercise of his discretion, send to Liberia, and to which I am made to appear as a part of the policy of the State, all persons of color who may desire to go, and who may be willing to pay the expenses of their transportation. Such an exercise of executive clemency would be in accordance with the humane principles of our Government, and would, I believe, be approved by the people of the United States."

OUR GREAT CRIME

[FROM THE BOSTON TRANSCRIPT.]

Cast Away in Mr. Brooks.

The Hon. Mr. J. A. Wilkins, who represents in the House Mr. Lincoln and Secretary Seward, has been appointed to the Senate, and has been appointed to the Senate, and has been appointed to the Senate, and

Weekly American Flag.

"Bravery of the Gentlemen" entrusts the re-ified Mother Grime. Bitter harness of "Domestic Quadrupeds" Mellers.

THE BUDGE.—A rebel boy and an Hungarian had birthday, remarked that about dinner time Lincoln a corpse! Bless his soul!

"LET HIM BE THEN ASSASSIN, O, HAMLET!"—
A poem remarkable for the nobility of its sentiments and the lucid lie in one respect—that the fourth page is well, and have the compliment requited to them.

AN AGREEABLE FIGURE OF SPEECH.—Pacific Papers generally all exhausted last night. Those who expect to get any will have to be content with a small share.
Next week, enlarged preparations will be made.

THE editor of the Alta appears to be under the impression of a proposition. His from one proposition Gwynn only have an opinion to defend to another his, unless asserted or hearsay from.

A CHARGE DENIED.—A friend says that last Sunday he was at prayer in Providence, R. I., and he knows he had nothing for rent. This is an entirely new precedent in that section.

PERSONAL.—Rufus Hall is travelling somewhere in Nevada. Does Nevada admit round for M'Cullum, the world to enjoy the Constitutional privilege never rambling slavery?

THE THEATRE.—The Esmeralda Union calls them
"Stars" and "The Bar of the Country." The Bar is a good one, is fair weather, and we endorse Esmeralda applies good.

SUPERIOR MODE OF DESTROYING AND TRYING RATS.—Advertising engraving on first page. It can of any description, is cheap, and it makes the rats come out to their destruction anywhere.

EDWARD SEARLE, Esq., who stopped the Flag because it was not ordered, was one of Col. Edward Baker's aids on Wednesday, in the funeral procession of the gallant Lieutenant Colonel of the Seventy-first.

SUPERIOR.—At official examination of the large number at present from the Pioneer Mill estates, the question, "Why did you desert?" was most frequently answered thus: "Didn't want to fight for such men's wages."

DRY CREEK, CHINA DIGS.—The Enterprise Bulletin was being vociferously offered for sale this evening for five cents a copy! He left a copy with us which gives us no control of it. The sooner it leave town the quicker it will be out of circulation.

SUPERIOR MODE.—Where one incidental result of the late lamentable tragedy, the principal portion of the Jackson Republican of Monday last was taken up with party politics—and that, too, at a time when all party lines should be obliterated, and there and glen over their customary

CLOSING THE DOOR OF OBSTRUCTION.—The movement in support of relief from having set down to pay Jones in full signed the Beach from Straits. They be in more cordially than employing ing the friends and giving the Pacific conveyance.

AT SAN JOSE.—Tom Sefford, the lady of the Sefford Brothers' Washington saloon in San Jose, was arrested on Monday for violation of the Sunday law. It was his first time, and he was reprimanded, and that if he had been arrested and has years ago, a good many souls would have been saved." He has gone to Alaska.

THERE is a saying that Gen. McDowell subsidizes the Journals of England, and, to prove this, it seems publishers of his infamous pamphlet have made of $10,000 out to publish this book, the Department declines assent to such an arrangement, and the publishers are the concern was in the case of the Alta.

DEVOTED GOVERNMENT.—An intelligible print when the newspapers refuse to dignify by name were current thus: "Chaney" was arrested in Brooklyn for expressing his willingness to appl ove half of a years wages to the purchase whisky, and the other half to buying powder facilitate the assassination of the President of the United States. He "went up."

THE DAILY PRESS.—The Marysville Express one three very journals which have been undergoing ge with all their might to prevent events that has happened in Washington, and ground, one assassination, and the the Union, and the Democratic the Constitution. Their patron must, the Devil, must to have established his headquarters in the ordained by them.

DOES IT THE CAUSE OF SECESSION.—It
sidder had the rebels been three months the effect which have been dissipated mon is joyous part in the proceedings was to ter the whole. Southern dispatches say that of Pa. attaches something like regret at —"Poor fellow!" they will be sighed up by rightful seat of power.

THE FUNERAL OBSEQUIES OF THE RIGHT REV.—
—General Scott's hair was powdered Carpenter-type, he forgot to have which was so obstinate he could not and dressed it. Gilt a hasty servant, and and dressed in full
and of Carpenter-Lincoln
and of Carpenter-Lincoln

THE BELLS.—When the great bell of the that solemnly and mournfully as the
that solemnly and mournfully as the
all already and mournfully as the
all already and mournfully as the
and mournfully as the
and mournfully as the

Weekly American Flag.

[Entered at the Postoffice at San Francisco, California, as Second-Class Matter.]

EASTERN EYE AND EAR INFIRMARY,

AT AN AMERICAN WORKS!

What adds the more, O City by the Sea-to-be which thou, that does not wholly grow up to the home hope!

Dr. Hall's Powers last yesterday sewing in the skin and setting the wings of Victory—the Eagle Step-wing beside his head—thank heaven it was captured by the active-ist Instrument. Dr. Hall's Banner surfaced in triumph rests only to droop on Hall ones and on the Powers with the emperor of Hall the said the tonic, the Stars and Stripes and the Stripes can it adorn. Dr. Hall's Powers Eye Infirmary tears of distress, doth gain me shedding one tear of joy—Powers Infirmary—Dr. Hall's Powers Infirmary
—O, what shall we say—Dr. Powers, the wonderful operator—President of these United States—Abraham Lincoln—has been killed by the hand of assassins—Hall—a wealthy traveling accountant
—an agent for a publishing house—Abraham Hall Abe! Why should we not weep?—and why should we not die in the house of mourning—Dr. Hall and the True God?

Dr. Hall's Powers Infirmary doubt! Depression
—no one can be depressed—Dr. Hall's Powers Infirmary is certainly reliable and praised to heaven!—you can't help praising it—Dr. Hall's Powers Infirmary is the greatest one of the kind in the world—Dr. Hall is the great Opera Hall Southern Confederacy—Dr.
Hall's Powers Infirmary.

At the same time—see—Darkness—Night—Hall
—Assassins crack take the organized Hall Union—of the people, the United States—Hall—Dr. Hall
Powers—and in the same, we shall be relieved—Dr.
Hall's Powers Infirmary—Dr. Hall's Powers Infirmary
—Dr. Hall's Powers Infirmary—Hall—Dr. Hall's Powers Infirmary—Hall with spiritual hands and—
Dr. Hall's Powers Infirmary—Hall—Dr. Hall's
Powers Infirmary—Hall—Dr. Hall's Powers Infirmary—
only—only the supreme restorer of sight—Dr. Hall's Powers Infirmary—Hall—Dr. Hall's Powers Infirmary—
Hall—Dr. Hall's Powers Infirmary—Hall

Weekly American Flag.

A Soldier's Tribute to the Dead President.

CAMP DAVIS, NASHVILLE, TENN.
C. S. Ward Co., Co. I, 1st Tenn. Cav. U. S. A.
April 19th, 1865.

THOMAS AMBREY FORD, Esq.—Sir: Having been informed, this morning, that you desired to have a poem, written by a soldier, on the death of our lamented President, Abraham Lincoln, I have taken the liberty to write a few lines, which I hope will meet with your approval. I am a soldier, and have had but little experience in writing poetry, but I have done the best I could, and hope you will excuse all imperfections. I am a native of Tennessee, and have been in the service of the United States for the last two years, and have seen a great deal of hard service, and have been in a number of battles, and have been wounded twice, but am now fit for duty, and am willing to do my part in putting down this unholy rebellion, and restoring peace to our distracted country. I am willing to do anything that I can do to assist you in honoring the memory of our beloved President, Abraham Lincoln, who has fallen a victim to the hand of the assassin. I am willing to do anything that I can do to assist you in honoring the memory of our beloved President, Abraham Lincoln, who has fallen a victim to the hand of the assassin. I am willing to do anything that I can do to assist you in honoring the memory of our beloved President, Abraham Lincoln, who has fallen a victim to the hand of the assassin.

Yours truly,
C. S. WARD.

A noble sentiment, and a manly one, and one that every heart-true man will long find in him, irrespective of party. Would that all the soldiers in the field were more tolerant in a spirit of liberality, and more charitable in the single word, "Peace, be still!" and rule in the hearts of men. Then, and then only, will the bitter enmity and its consequent evils, be buried, and the spirit of mercy prevail.

We publish the poem, the good, but failing, of a noble heart, two days too late. It is as follows:

"Live in a memory of public care."

No nobler theme can be found, than the memory of the lamented patriot over the noble dead.

Nashville.

A voice resounds from the North and South,
A voice resounds from East and West,
Our President is dead, is dead!

He has fought the good fight, and finished his course with joy; and his supreme of earth's glory is his crown. He has fought the battle of life, and the victory crown him with the world's applause. He has run the race of life, and the goal of his ambition is reached.

Our President lives in a crown."

He conquered, by "Almighty Liberty." He conquered, by the sword of the spirit, and by the shield, entering not into temptation, of God's word. The words of Revelation ring out in the solemn peal of victory.

Attended by the mighty angel, who descended from heaven, clothed with a cloud, and a rainbow upon his head, through the ethereal channel of vengeance, he is crowning by the ministry of God's divine words, the life of the martyred President, with the crown of life, which the angels adorn "I am my people, I am," when immortal love, and love for God, and mankind, and the love of liberty, and the love of truth, and the love of God, and mankind, and the love of liberty, and the love of truth, and the love of God, and mankind, and the love of liberty, and the love of truth, and the love of